Our last matinee show of the year will be featuring “Dueling Pianos”, a popular entertainment venue across the country and, for many years, similar shows were performed at Cleveland’s Power House on the West Bank of the Flats. After a delicious luncheon and a bit of shopping, sit back and enjoy these Dueling Pianos, “a dynamic musical act that captivates audiences with their interactive piano performances complete with plenty of high energy and lively music, leading to a most-enjoyable afternoon.

Just in case you are not familiar with “Dueling Pianos”, there are two pianos played by some great piano players who both sing and play for the audience. This form of entertainment has been around for almost 150 years and is best known since the time it was introduced in New Orleans, Louisiana, about fifty years later.
