

Great Day! Scheduled Tour Summary

MY HEART'S IN HARTVILLE, MARKETPLACE

THUR JUNE 14, 2018

Departures, as applicable, from Elyria, North Olmsted, Middleburg Hts, Independence, Beachwood, Boston Hts.

For our “bargain hunters”, we’ve kept the price the same this year!

Back in 1966 a small restaurant opened in a relatively rural section of Stark County. This popular eatery eventually became known as Hartville Kitchen. People came from all over and learned about this small restaurant on the days that the adjacent flea market was open. Long days of hard work by this couple led to their success, along with their delicious home-style foods that were served. It was so successful, as our long-ago passengers can attest, that the restaurant outgrew its original location. Over almost fifty-two years (almost as long as Great Day! Tours has been serving customers), a lot of changes have been made. The restaurant still serves great made-from-scratch meals based on recipes passed down from the Grandmother, that bring folks for miles but now it also produces Hartville Kitchen Salad Dressings. We will be served our luncheon during this tour where you will be selecting your entrée from such tasty specialties as Ham, Roast Beef and Fried Chicken. The on-site bakery and candy shop are always a “hit”.

This family-owned group of businesses has expanded a number of times and now encompasses Hartville Marketplace & Flea Market, a Thomas Kinkade Signature Gallery and, most recently, Hartville Hardware & Hartville Tool.

The Flea Market has evolved from a livestock auction to an Indoor Marketplace with over 100 shops featuring food, fashion, crafts, antiques and home decor. During the peak season the outdoor flea market boasts over 800 vendors daily.

- Don't let the “Hartville Collectibles” name fool you, this large gift shop has something for everyone. There's a variety of collectibles and one-of-a-kind keepsakes, women's fashion accessories, like the designer jewelry and handbags, as well as clothing and other unique items to brighten your wardrobe.
- Hartville Hardware opened in 1972 on the “campus”, as it is called. A unique feature is the 1850 square foot “Made in the USA Idea House”, which was almost entirely constructed of products made in the country and from products that are in stock in the store. The tool department is home to a reconstructed 19th century log cabin.

$84 per person (same price as last year, for more savings!)
