

Great Day! Scheduled Tour Summary

APPLE BUTTER STIRRIN' IN A CANAL TOWN FRIDAY, OCT 15, 2021

Departures, as applicable, from North Olmsted, Middleburg Heights, Independence, Beachwood, Boston Heights.

For half a century, the Apple Butter Stirrin' Festival has been recapturing the flavor of an old-time harvest celebration in this restored Ohio and Erie Canal town within the Appalachian region. Historic Roscoe Village, was laid out in 1816, originally being named Caldersburgh after its founder and local merchant, James Calder. The village was once a bustling port until the canal was wiped out during the flood that hit the area in 1913. The village, the local portions of the canal and the intricate architecture have been restored over the years and now boasts delightful shops, restaurants and tours of the historic buildings.

The highlight of this annual event is the making of homemade apple butter in large copper kettles over crackling open wood fires. While apple butter may be the “common thread” during our visit, the festival also offers handmade crafts, demonstrations and outdoor stage entertainment. You’ll be smelling the fresh apple butter simmering as you stroll through the street, lined with more than 100 craft and food vendors, and listening to the tunes of both bluegrass and music from days gone by. Various events and Living History Tours are held during the festival, before or after our luncheon mid-day.

We will be making a stop at Swiss Village Bulk Foods before we reach our drop-off location, just in case we would still like to make a purchase or two following the Apple Butter Stirrin’.
